Courier just arrived from Moldavia, has brought the following Intelligence: The Turks, under the Command of Mousson Oughil, passed the Danube the 9th of June, in Number 18,000, in 3 Bodies, 2 of which afterwards joining, attacked Gen. Potemkin, who was besieging Fort Turno, opposite Nicopolis: That General, however, having been informed of their Design, advanced towards them, dispersed them, seized their Cannon, and forced them to retire towards Viddin. The other Turkish Corps was more successful; they sat down before Fort Gurgova, and after several Attacks for Three Days, the Russian Commandant, named Henckel, capitulated on the 14th of June, when he was allowed to march out with all the Honours of War, but leaving Sixty-four Pieces of Cannon behind.

Prince Repnin hearing of the Attack, marched to the Assistance of the Russians, but arrived Three Hours after the Capitulation. However, he has invested the Place, and promises to get Possession of it in 15 Days.

The Russian Commandant, with all his Officers, were put by Prince Repnin under an Arrest.

The 9th of March last, the taking this Place cost the Russians 1000 Men.

THE Knights Companions in the full Habit of the Order, the Officers of the Order in their Mantles, the Knights elect in the under Habit of their Order, having their Caps and Feathers in their Hands, and the Proxies in their ordinary Habit, attended the Sovereign in the Royal Apartment: The Officers of Arms in the Prefence Chamber, the Prebends and Poor Knights in the Guard Chamber.

The Proxies not going in the Procession, retired before it began, to their Chairs, at the Back of the Altar.

About Eleven o'Clock the Procession began to move, being called over in the following Order by Garter:

Poor Knights, Two and Two.

Prebends, Two and Two.

Officers of Arms, Two and Two.

The Knights Elect, Two and Two, having their Caps and Feathers in their Hands, viz.

Earl Gower, Duke of Grafton.

Duke of Marlborough, Earl of Albemarle.

His Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, Bishop of Osnabrug.

His Royal Highness the Duke of Mecklenburg, Prince of Wales.

The Knights Companions in their Order, viz.

Marquis of Rockingham, Earl of Hertford.

Duke of Northumberland, Duke of Montagu.

Duke of Newcastle.

Duke of Kingston.

His Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester

Gentleman Usher The Register Garter King of

of the Black Rod with the Arms with his with his Rod. Book. Rod or Scepter.

The Bishop of Salisbury,

Chancellor of the Order, with the Purse.

The Vice Chamberlain.

The Sword of State, borne by the Duke of St. Albans.

The Sovereign, in the full Habit of the Order, his Train borne by Two Dukes eldest Sons and the Master of the Robes.

The Band of Gentlemen Pensioners.

In this Manner proceeding to the Chapel, they entered at the South Door, passing down the South Isle, and up the North Isle, to the Chapter-House, the Poor Knights, Prebends, and Officers of Arms dividing on either Side for the Procession to pass; the Knights elect retiring to their Chairs in the Isle behind the Altar, the Knights Companions and the Officers of the Order only entering into the Chapter-House with the Sovereign.

The Sovereign and Knights Companions being seated, Garter was commanded to introduce his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, who was received at the Chapter-House Door by the Two junior Knights Companions and conducted to the Table, where the Surcoat, Girdle and Sword had been placed; and after presenting the Surcoat to the Two senior Knights, they invested his Royal Highness therewith, the Chancellor reading the Admonition.

Then Garter presented the Girdle and Sword, which he put on.

His Royal Highness the Bishop of Osnabrug, and his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, were then severally introduced, and invested as before.

Then the Proxy for his Serene Highness the Duke of Mecklenburg was introduced, and afterwards the Proxy for his Serene Highness the Prince of Brunswick.

Garter then introduced the Earl of Albemarle, who was received at the Chapter-House Door by the Two junior Knights Companions, and invested as before, the Register reading the Admonition.

Then the Duke of Marlborough, the Duke of Grafton, and Earl Gower, were severally introduced, and invested, as the Earl of Albemarle had been.

The Knights elect continued in the Chapter-House while the Procession to the Chapel was made, and the Achievements of the deceased Knights were offered, the Procession passing down to the West-End of the Isle, and up the middle Isle, into the Choir, in the following Order:

First the Poor Knights; who, coming into the Choir, made their Reverences all together, and placed themselves on each Side near the Altar.

The Prebends, making their Reverences in like Manner, went to their Seats under the Stalls.

The Officers of Arms, making their Reverences, stood next to the Poor Knights.

The Knights Companions, in the Order they walked, made their Reverences, and retired under their Banners.

The Register, Garter, and Black Rod, made their Reverences together, and stood before their Form. The Chancellor did the like.

The Sovereign made one Reverence to the Altar, and, being in his Stall, repeated the same, the Train-Bearers standing upon the Steps going up to the Stall; the Sword of State, with the Vice-Chamberlain, on the Steps before, or under the Sovereign's Stall.

The Two Prebends were conducted to the Altar by the Verger.

Then Garter, with the usual Reverences, taking up the Banner of the late Duke of Cumberland, and holding it up, Two Officers of Arms immediately joined, and making their Reverences, repaired to his Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester and the Duke of Kingston, being the Two senior Knights, who thereupon joining, and making their Reverences together, received the Banner from Garter, and, being preceded by the Two Heralds, advanced to the first Step of Haut-pas, where they repeated their Reverences, and, coming to the Rails, made one to the Altar; then kneeling, they delivered the Banner to the Prebends, who placed it upright at the South-End of the Altar.

The Sword was then delivered by Garter, and offered in like Manner; and then the Helm and Crest; the Knights retiring under their Banners.

The Achievements of the late Duke of York were offered in the same Manner.

The Swords of the other deceased Knights, viz. the Duke of Dorset, Duke of Newcastle, Duke of Bedford, Earl Granville, Earl of Winchelsea, Duke of Devonshire, and Earl Waldegrave, were then offered together by the Two next Knights in Rotation.

Garter then summoned the Knights to ascend into their Stalls.

All the Knights being in their Stalls, the Two seniors were summoned down to install the Prince of Wales; and they proceeded to the Chapter-House in the following Order:—Poor Knights—Officers of Arms—The Register, Garter, and Black Rod, as before—The Chancellor—The Two Knights. And from the Chapter-House his Royal Highness was conducted to the Chapel in the Order as follows, viz.

Poor Knights.

Officers of Arms.

Garter, carrying, on a Cushion, the Mantle, Hood, great Collar, and Book of Statutes, having on his right Hand the Register and Black Rod on his left.

The Chancellor.

The Two Knights, having his Royal Highness between them, in his Surcoat and Sword, carrying his Cap and Feather in his Hand.

All entering the Choir with the usual Reverences, Garter placed the Cushion upon the Desk.

The Two Knights conducted his Royal Highness directly into his Stall, (the Sovereign having dispensed with his taking the Oath, by Reason of his tender Years) and Garter delivering the Mantle to the Knights, they invested the Prince therewith, the Chancellor reading the Admonition.

Then Garter presented the Hood to the Knights, and afterwards the Collar and George; and the Knights invested the Prince, the Chancellor reading the Admonition.

Garter next presented the Statute-Book, which the Knights delivered to the Prince; and then placing the Cap and Feather on his Head, they seated him in his Stall; and the Prince rising up, made his double Reverences; and the Knights, after embracing and congratulating his Royal Highness, descended, made their Reverences, and went up into their Stalls, and the Officers to their Places.

His Royal Highness the Bishop of Osnabrug was then introduced, and installed by the Two senior Knights, in the same Manner as the Prince of Wales had been.

The Two senior Knights likewise installed his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, who being introduced with the usual Reverences, they entered into the lower Stall, where the Register administered the Oath to his Royal Highness, Black Rod holding the Book.

Then the Knights conducted his Royal Highness into the upper Stall, the Chancellor and Garter entering into the lower Stall, the Register and Black Rod remaining in the Area.

Garter then presented the Mantle, Hood, and Collar, with which his Royal Highness was invested, the Chancellor reading the Admonitions; and then the Statute-Book was delivered, and he was installed with the same Ceremony as before mentioned.

Then the Two next Knights in seniority were summoned to install Sir Charles Frederick, the Proxy for his Serene Highness the Duke of Mecklenburg, who was conducted into the lower Stall, where the Oath was administered to him under the Reservations stipulated: He was then conducted into the upper Stall, and the Mantle being presented by Garter, the Knights put it over his Arm, so that the Garter thereon appeared: He was then seated in the Stall as the Knights had been; and, during the Rest of the Ceremony, stood up, or leaned on the Cushion, a Proxy not being allowed to sit in the Stall.

Sir John Griffin Griffin, the Proxy for his Serene Highness the Prince of Brunswick, was then installed in the same Manner.

The Earl of Albemarle was then brought in and installed in the same Manner as the Duke of Cumberland, except the Attendance of the Chancellor, the Register pronouncing the Admonition. In like Manner the Duke of Marlborough, the Duke of Grafton, and Earl Gower, were severally introduced and installed.

Divine Service then began; and at the Words of the Offertory, let your Light so shine; the Organ playing, the Officers of the Wardrobe spread a Carpet on the Steps before the Altar, and Black Rod making his Obeisances, went up to the Rails of the Altar on the right Side, where he received from the Yeomen of the Wardrobe, a rich Carpet and Cushion, which, with the Assistance of the Yeomen, he laid down for the Sovereign to kneel upon.

In the mean Time Garter summoned the Knights from their Stalls, and being all under their Banners,

The Sovereign, making one Reverence to the Altar, descended from his Stall; and then, making another Reverence, proceeded to the Offering in the following Order:

Garter and the Register.

The Chancellor.

The Vice Chamberlain, and the Sword of State.

The Sovereign, his Train borne as before.

As the Procession passed, the Duke of Kingston (being the senior Knight not of the Royal Family) making his Reverence, placed himself a little behind his Majesty on the right Side, and coming against the Stall of the Earl of Hertford, Lord Chamberlain, he came from under his Banner, going a little behind the Sovereign on the left Side. The Sovereign coming to the Rails of the Altar, Black Rod delivered the Offering on his Knee to the Duke of Kingston, who presented it to the Sovereign: And his Majesty taking off his Cap, and kneeling, put the Offering into the Bason; then rising, his Majesty made his Reverence to the Altar, another in the Middle of the Choir, (all the Attendants turning as his Majesty did, and making their Reverence at the same Time) and, being in his Stall, another; the Lord Chamberlain and the Knight who delivered the Offering, retiring under their Banners, when they came opposite to them.

During the Sovereign's Return, the Officers of the Wardrobe removed the Carpet and Cushion, whereon his Majesty had knelt, leaving the first Carpet and Two Cushions for the Knights, and Black Rod returned to his Place.

All the Knights thus standing under their Banners, Two Officers of Arms joined, with usual Reverences, and went to his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, who thereupon making his Reverences in the Middle of the Choir, was conducted to the Altar, and made his Offering; and, returning in the same Order, went into his Stall, where, making his Reverence, he sat down.

Then the next Knight or Knights in seniority, being Companions, offered in like Manner; and so on till all the Knights and Proxies had offered.

Divine Service went on; and being ended,

Garter summoned the Knights under their Banners, Juniors first; which done, the Poor Knights made their Reverences, and went out of the Choir; then the Prebends, then the Officers of Arms, then the Knights, then the Officers of the Order, then the Sword of State, and the Sovereign as before; thus proceeding to the great West Door of the Chapel, and up the South Isle, out at the South Door, to the upper
